

KILL THE RAT CAMPAIGN TO BE OPENED IN CITY

Flock of Experts Endorsed by Government Starts Work
Tomorrow.

26,000 RODENTS HERE

Based on government averages there are about 26,000 rats in Connellsville. Tomorrow a government agent, J. L. Nicholas, known as the "Peg Piper," will begin a campaign for their extermination, according to his announcement today. The drive will be under the personal direction of Mr. Nicholas, with the cooperation of the board of health and through the agency of business men and the public at large.

The movement has the endorsement of the United States Public Health Service and the Department of Agriculture. A corps of experts will assist Mr. Nicholas whose work will be educational in its nature in that he will not actually kill rats but will demonstrate the means of ridding the city of them.

The campaign will spend two weeks in this locality, working out of Greensburg, which is headquarters for the drive in Fayette and Westmoreland counties.

According to Mr. Nicholas, government statistics estimate the rat population at two for every human. The 1920 census showed Connellsville having a population of over 12,000.

Government figures show that rats in the United States caused $50,000,000 damage in 1910 while in 1920 the toll had increased to $500,000,000.

"If the rat is not exterminated, in the next hundred years it will exterminate the human race," has been predicted, Mr. Nicholas said.

Retail Clothing Trade Stabilized Says Association

By Associated Press.

SCRANTON, July 27.—Conditions in the retail clothing trade are fairly well stabilized, so far as prices are concerned, and the business is better comparatively in Pennsylvania than in any other state, O. L. Underwood, of Scranton, president of the Pennsylvania Retail Clothiers' association, told the members of the association at a session of their sixth annual convention here.

"During the past year, has been the most trying and most serious in the history of the retail men's wear business," Underwood said. "The situation now has been almost completely in the clothing business and the retail clothing have courageously taken their medicine to an extent, or greater extent than any other line of business in America."

"They have taken their losses manfully and have done everything within their power to bring about a return to normal conditions," he added. "I had every other business in every line liquidated so completely and so rapidly as have the men's wear retailers the resumption of operations in the mills and factories would now be almost complete."

"Although the retail conditions are fairly well stabilized with respect to prices, the outlook for the future, however, there will be gradual reductions in some lines as production costs decrease."

State Supreme Court Refuses to Permit Appeal in "Jaky" Cases

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Chief Justice Von Moschizker of the Supreme court has made an order refusing to allow an appeal to the United States Supreme court in the Fayette county disputes over the Brooks high license law brought about by the county-wide sale of Jamaica ginger which prohibition became effective.

A number of dealers were convicted of selling liquor without a license in violation of the state law. This judgment was affirmed by the Superior court and also on further appeal by the Supreme court. The contention was raised by the appellants that the Brooks law was repealed and superseded by the Volstead act.

The chief justice's order says "while the precise questions thought to be raised in this case have not been passed upon by the federal Supreme court yet since that tribunal invariably accepts the interpretation of a state statute so far as its meaning is concerned as it is construed by the Supreme court of the state and since our interpretation of the meaning of the state statute here involved renders it not inconsistent with the federal law that meaning under the rule above referred to not being open to argument we do not feel warranted in allowing a writ of error. If such writ is to be issued we prefer to leave the question of its allowance to one of the United States Supreme court justices."

BODY OF LIEUT. SHALLENBERGER ARRIVES HOBOKEN

Son of Vanderbilt Man Killed By Bursting German Shell.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Shallenberger of Vanderbilt received telegraphic notice yesterday that the body of their son, Lieutenant H. D. Shallenberger, Jr., had arrived at Hoboken, N. J. No information was given as to the time the body would be forwarded to its final destination.

Lieutenant Shallenberger was one of Fayette county's young men in the World War to be awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action. Having been assigned to other duties he was ordered to go into battle instead. While leading the third platoon of Company B, 56th Infantry, he was hit in the calf of the leg by a machine gun bullet, but he kept on. Another bullet struck a more vulnerable spot, disabling him. Shortly afterward an explosion of a German shell caused his death on the field of battle, in November, 1918. His body was interred in a small quarry near the Prey-Pagny road.

Lieutenant Shallenberger was well known to many Connellsville people, having attended and graduated from the high school in the class of 1914. He later entered Pennsylvania State college, giving up his studies at that institution to enter the service very shortly after the declaration of war on April 15, 1917. He was born at Vanderbilt and was a member of the Christian church of that town. In addition to his parents, he is survived by one sister, Miss Ruth Shallenberger, at home, two brothers, Philip, married, residing near Dickinson, Pa., and Henry at home.

On his arrival in Connellsville the body of Lieutenant Shallenberger will be taken to the chapel of Funeral Director Charles C. Mitchell and will later be removed to the Shallenberger home. A military funeral will be held.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupefy the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Have You Tried It?

Everybody has read the above headline; how many believe it? Have you a little one in the home, and has that dear little mite when its stomach was not just right felt the comforts that come with the use of Fletcher's Castoria? You have heard the cry of pain. Have you heard them cry for Fletcher's Castoria? Try it.

Just help baby out of its trouble tomorrow with a taste of Castoria. Watch the difference in the tone of the cry, the look in the eye, the wiggle in the tiny fingers. The transformation is complete from pain to pleasure. Try it.

You'll find a wonderful lot of information about Baby in the booklet that is wrapped around every bottle of Fletcher's Castoria.

The History

Nix on the "Parley-Voo" stuff!

A FRIEND of mine
WHO COULDN'T speak.
A WORD of French.
WENT TO Paris.
AND THE first time.
HE HAD to get
A HAIRCUT and shave.
HE PRACTICED an hour.
MAKING SIGNS.
IN THE looking glass.
SO THE French barber.
WOULD UNDERSTAND him.
AND THEN he went in.
AND WIGGLED his fingers.
THROUGH HIS hair.
AND STROKED his chin.
AND THE barber grinned.
AND FINISHED the job.
THEN MY friend thought.
HE'D BE polite.
SO HE gave the barber.
AN AMERICAN cigarette.
WHICH THE barber smoked.
AND MY friend pointed.
TO HIS mouth.
AND SAID "Likee voo."
AND THE barber roared.
AND SAID "You BET."
I USED to smoke 'em.
WHEN I worked.
IN INDIANAPOLIS.
AND BELIEVE me.
THEY Satisfy!

HERE'S a smoke that talks
in any language and needs no interpreter. Light up a Chesterfield, draw deep—and more plainly than words your smile will tell the world "They Satisfy." It's the blend that does it—and you can't get "Satisfy"
anywhere except in Chesterfields, for that blend can't be copied!

News of Dunbar

DUNBAR, July 27.—Miss Mary Lehman has returned home after spending a month with her uncle and aunt,
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fair of Morgantown, W. Va. She is accompanied by her cousins, Misses Rosa and Ruth Fair, who will visit relatives at Kefter for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison H. Walters of Pittsburg were called here by the sorious illness of Mrs. Walters' mother, Mrs. Hannah S. McClain, whose death occurred Monday evening.

Charles Cline, after a week's serious illness with pneumonia, during a part of which time it was thought he might not recover, is improving nicely now and expects to be about his work within a week.

Quite a number of Dunbar families are camping in the valley east of the mouth of Tucker run, and report
having a fine time.

This is an ideal camping place, with good water, good fishing, good bathing and swimming and an abundance of good fresh air. As there are a number of blackberry patches in the immediate vicinity these add to the luxury of living and lessen the cost of the same. The grounds are about five miles from Dunbar, with a passable road leading therein.

The campers have organized a global and morning, and evening their warbling attracts an audience.

This section is rich in historical interest, as passing through the grounds is the famous "Betty Knox Path," over which Betty Knox is reputed to have carried corn to Young's mill, which then stood on what is yet known as the "Mill Lot" on Oakmont farm not far from Ferguson. Her

A PRACTICAL PRESCRIPTION FOR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Nine-tenths of all cases of stomach trouble nowadays are caused by too much acid. In the beginning the stomach itself is not diseased but if this acid condition is allowed to continue, the acid is very likely to eat into the stomach walls and produce gastritis with stomach ulcers. This may render a radical surgical operation necessary even to prolong life. Therefore, an acid stomach is really a dangerous condition and should be treated seriously. The excess acid or stomach hyperacidity can easily be neutralized by Eucalyptol Magnesia taken in ten-minutal doses in a glass of water after each meal. Larger quantities may be used if necessary as it is absolutely harmless. Be sure to ask your druggist for the pure Eucalyptol Magnesia specially prepared for this purpose.

west of the creek to the top of Irish-town mountain, and then descends to the mill, and for years it was the only means of travel over that rugged section. Betty Knox was the wife of a British soldier who deserted from the army during the Revolutionary War, and concealed himself in the mountains above Green Brier, and, fearing he might be found and returned a de-

ANOTHER WISE MEASURE.

The suggestion President Harding made to Congress in his special message yesterday, to authorize the War Finance Corporation to purchase securities now in the hands of the Railroad Administration so that the proceeds may be applied to making settlement with the railroads for obligations incurred by the government during the period of federal control, will appeal to the public as a thoroughly practical and business-like proposition.

"It is," says the President, explaining his request, "merely the grant of authority necessary to enable a most useful and efficient government agency to use its available funds to purchase securities for which Congress has authorized the issue and turn them into cash for the railroads ready to float them."

"There will be no added expense, no added investment is required on the part of the government, there is no added liability, no added tax burdens."

Being authorized to do in a different and quicker way what has already been lawfully declared shall be done, it will open the way to an early adjustment of the now very acute "road problem" by placing much needed funds at the disposal of the railroads with which to purchase supplies and replacement material and thus enable them to function more completely.

If Congress accedes to the President's request, as it doubtless will, the railroads will have no excuse to further delay placing orders with manufacturers. Such action will have an immediate stimulating effect on industry and business as it will call thousands of new jobs into being, to the mills, mines, coke yards, shops and the railroads and infuse new life into every related activity. It will be another of the wise measures suggested by President Harding's foresight and business acumen, and one of the means of assisting to permanently restore normal conditions which are essential to the country's material progress and prosperity.

SIMPLIFYING REGISTRATION.

Persons who have registered in Connelville during previous years will find when attending to that duty this year that they will be spared the annoyance of answering all the questions as to birthplace, age, residence in the state, ward, etc., which has heretofore been required. Relief from this more or less time consuming inquisition will be provided this year by the new law which will require only the signature of the registrant, and the signature of the representative of the county and approved by Governor Sproul.

The purpose of the act is to simplify personal registration in third-class cities by making it unnecessary for a registrant who lives in the same house from which they registered a year ago, to fill out a new card, produce his or her tax receipt, and fill out the new card which the law which amends the third-class city act of 1906, reads as follows:

"The county commissioners shall, at each fall registration preceding the November election, furnish to the registrars of the several wards and precincts the registers of the previous year. Every person appearing before the registrars who was registered in the same district for the previous year, and who still resides at the same residence within said district, as in the previous year, shall, after being sworn upon the production of a proper tax receipt and the making of a statement that he was registered in said election district the year immediately preceding, that he resides in the same residence as during the year, immediately preceding, and naming the political party, if any, to which he belongs, be again registered by the registrars without answering the additional questions in all the registers shall contain the registration of such persons from the registers of the preceding year, making due allowance for the lapsing of one year. Persons who have not previously registered will be asked to give the information the registrars are required to enter as part of the record of registration."

Small is the right word to use when speaking of the governor of Illinois and describing his failure as a chief executive.

IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITIONS SEEN BY GARY

Many Reasons for Believing Tide Has Turned, Steel Head Declares.

GREAT BUSINESS AHEAD

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The United States Steel Corporation reported Tuesday that its earnings for the quarter ending June 30, were $21,892,016, the smallest of any quarter since March, 1915. Just prior to the war boom, when they fell to $12,467,809.

Regular dividends of 1 1/2 per cent on the preferred shares and 1 1/4 per cent on the common were declared, still to meet the requirements of the common dividend, on which only 35 cents was earned; it was necessary to draw from the corporation's huge undivided surplus.

Analysis of the corporation's monthly business shows earnings of $7,338,655 in April, $7,731,649 in May and $6,823,712 in June.

Net income for the second quarter amounted to $13,226,509, against $20,656,339 in the preceding period. This item would have shown more drastic reduction but for the fact that charges and allowances for depreciation were much smaller than in the first quarter of the year.

Chairman Elbert H. Gary issued a statement after the meeting of the directors, in which he stated that the business results for the quarter were "satisfactory for anyone familiar with the general conditions."

He added that many manufacturing concerns have been operating at a loss. This, he declared, is no less censurable than insisting upon "unreasonable profits," and cannot be long continued. Commenting upon the future he said:

"As stated at the meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute last May, industry is headed in the right direction. This means a great deal, for at some date in the future there will be a 'piggyback' business. The fundamental facts for this conclusion are assured. The unduplicated figures amount to a demonstration."

"Just at present there are many reasons for believing our conditions are improving, even though we may not yet have experienced the large extent of the good results. Readjustments were necessary and they have been progressing with beneficial effect. . . . The financial aspect of this country and other countries has been improving, and, in most of us, the outlook is bright. The banking institutions of the United States are sound. Our resources are enormous. Our people are ready, anxious and able to do business. Every one is called upon to do his or her part in the endeavor to return to a sane and reasonable basis, and the sooner this opinion becomes practically unanimous the earlier will we reach the goal of prosperity, the apparent distance of which depends upon individual vision."

Henry Ford as a Railroad

New York Globe.

An American railroad voluntarily raising its wages and lowering its freight rates is as interesting as a two-headed calf. One road—the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton—has actually taken these extraordinary steps. The new freight rates, which have been filed with the Ohio State Utilities Commission, are 20 per cent below those formerly prevailing, and the minimum wage will be $6 a day. When it is added that no Sunday trains will be run, except those necessary for carrying babies' milk, the hand of Henry Ford will be immediately recognized.

The Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, whose main line carries traffic between the Ohio river and Detroit, is indeed controlled at present by Mr. Ford, and these are the doings of the enfant terrible of American business. Out of the bounds of decency in four nations, a complete failure as a diplomat, outmaneuvered in politics, Mr. Ford is always refreshing when he strikes to business. Probably the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton is not a representative railroad; probably, if it is representative it will be hard hit by Mr. Ford's extraordinary generosity toward his public and his employees, yet the incident makes one wonder if American railway history would not have been different if more railway executives in earlier days had seen that it was good business not to damn the public, but to serve it, and not to beat down the employees, but to pay them for willing and intelligent service.

Over if Mr. Ford fails to make the new plan a success the experiment will have been worth while.

THE GOODY GOODY MAN.

I do not mind the man who rides his hobby. I can abide the rascal now and then. I think the creature found in hotel lobbies. Some day, perhaps may change and grow to men. I can put up with him who merely bores me. And he polite to never of every kind. But one there is who positively terrifies me. The gentleman who's overly refined. I do not mind the man with worn-out stories. At least he wants to cheer me up a bit. The beautiful man who magnifies his glories. May some day see his foolishness and quit. The grouchy man is hard to get along with. But even him I would not wholly ban. There's only one I am forever wrong with. The over-perfect goody goody man. The game of life is rough and man must play it. He be a man and he has to stand the test. A spineless spine—why be afraid to say it? The meaning's clearer when the end is in sight. A man can be a man and not politically. Can live with men and keep a polite. All eyes at times must look on things ungraciously. And over-dies that is too much refined.

MAKES 35 POUND GAIN ON TANLAC

Philadelphia Man Says Tanlac Is a Blessing to Humanity—Feels Like a New Man.

"One of my friends was so enthusiastic over Tanlac that he called it a blessing to humanity and got me to try it for my troubles. I went to the drug store and bought a box of Tanlac. I took it right here that I back his statement to the 'limit' for the medicine has actually built me up 35 pounds in weight and put me in the best of health," said George Mack, of 1335 East Arizona street, Philadelphia, Pa.

"Yes, sir, I had to lay off my work for three weeks on account of my troubles, but I'm now back on the job again feeling fine.

"My appetite was so poor that I had no relief for anything to eat, and at times even the smell of food would nauseate me. I slowly suffered and toiled with indigestion and had such splitting headaches I could hardly stand them. I was so nervous that the least little thing would annoy me, my sleep was restless and broken, and it was very discouraging to be in such distress all the time.

"I never can thank my friend enough for getting me to take Tanlac, for the medicine has rid me of all my troubles, has given me a ravenous appetite and built me up 35 pounds in weight. Tanlac has made life really worth living to me, for it has given me good health, something money can't buy."—Advertisement.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"THOUGHTLESS WOMEN."—The feature attraction today and tomorrow presents beautiful Alma Rubens in one of the best and most entertaining roles of her screen career. The author of "Thoughtless Women" Daniel Carson Goodman, causes Alma Rubens, to take up residence in a rich home by her mother, whose vain desires and ambitions are to see her daughter's name shining in society. As is usual in cases of this kind, the innocent girl rebels against this unnatural treatment by her mother. She is driven almost to self-destruction by her unhappy environment, but is brought back to happiness by that healer of all feminine trials and tribulations—"love." Annie marries the wealthy banker, whose natural station of life is in the straits in which Annie's mother desires to place her. Many mothers in this city claim that mother love is too pronounced in the hearts of a mother to cause her daughter unnecessary sorrow and they differ sharply with the author and producer, Daniel Carson Goodman in claiming that his situations are untrue to life in the majority of cities, at least outside the influence of the metropolis.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE BIG ADVENTURE."—With Brady Benson, the wonderful child actor in the titular role, is the feature attraction today and tomorrow. The story was produced under the direction of Reaves Benson, who happens to be the youngster's father, and will stand out as one of the heartiest pictures of the year. Scene by scene the little chap enacts a role that will strike a particularly responsive chord in the hearts of those who have grown—yet who have the spirit of youth. Mickey, a nondescript dog, plays one of the principal roles in the lad's support, giving to the picture a naturalness and realism which lifts it above the usual run of photodramas. In addition to the kiddie and his dog, there are to be seen Gertrude Olmstead, Fred Herzog, Leo Shumway and Mollie Shafer and many other popular favorites.

THE ORPHEUM.

"SILK HOSIERY." a Paramount picture with Edith Bennett in the leading role, is being shown today. In the prologue, Miss Bennett, in the role of Marjorie Brown, a modiste's model, is seen day-dreaming amid huge volumes of romance and fiction. The books are six feet high and by means of clever photography, the characters materialize from between the covers, and trip before the heroine like romantic heroes of old. The exaggerated size of the books, the diminutive characters, and the life-sized figure of Miss Bennett appearing on the same film make an interesting study of contrast, and a still more interesting achievement of photography. Aside from its superiority as a picture story, "Silk Hosiery" constitutes a veritable fashion display. The scenes are laid for the greater part in a fashionable modiste's shop and the heroine is a model.

Health of Women.
How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of women is often strained to its utmost, and the strain upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop, and nervous irritability, backache, dragging down sensations and other painful ailments peculiar to women. The reliable remeable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for these troubles.—Advertisement.

U. P. BEATS LUTHERANS

The Whitney aggregation of ball tossers are next on the Connellsville Independents' schedule in the Fayette-Westmoreland league series. The visiting crew are to cross bats with the locals at Fayette field Saturday afternoon. When Connellsville plays Whitney, the fans are assured of fast ball. These two teams played a hot and tuck game last week, a brand of ball that always has the fans on their toes.

There is no question that the Whitney team is one of the fastest semi-pro outfits in this section of the state. They have a vast following. Should Whitney use Buck in today's game at Dickerson Run, it would not be surprising if the famous Hilty hurler in Saturday's fracas here. The spit-baller has never been shown in this city and it would be a rare treat for local fans to see the pitching ace at work.

Rabbit Hauser will be the choice of the locals, being one of the few pitchers Whitney really fears. Should Hilty be the selection for the visitors and Hauser do the twirling for the locals, one of the best games of the series is in prospect.

Lutherans Beaten By U. P. Church Team

The United Presbyterian church league baseball team defeated the Lutheran club at Fayette field last evening, 5-5. The United Presbyterians go into first place in the league as a result of the victory.

In the opening frame the U. P. team scored a trio of tallies. The Lutherans immediately tied the count by coming back in the second. The third, fourth and fifth saw the U. P. runners cross the plate six times. A seventh inning rally by the Lutherans failed to overcome the margin.

MANAGER DONOVAN IS OPTIMISTIC

Manager Bill Donovan of the Phillies is an optimistic bird. He believed that eventually he will build up a winning club for the Quakers. Donovan denies that his boss, the well-known Mr. Baker, is a "tight wad" and has refused to open the purse strings for players. He said:

"Mr. Baker is willing to spend money—but where are you going to get ball players of known major league caliber? I had a trade on with St. Louis for Janvyn, but they demanded a pitcher that I refused to give up. I intend to keep plugging along and believe that some day the old hard luck line will turn into the sunlight."

The bird who fouls 'em down the first and third base lines has no love lost for the man who makes the white-wash lines.

The Detroit club has recalled Catcher Clyde Manion from the Toledo club, while Toledo also has sent Pitcher Frank Okrie back to Detroit.

George Hughes, veteran second baseman and former manager in the Three-I league, has been appointed to the umpire staff of the league.

Tony Faeth continues to pitch winning ball for Vernon, while Art Freeman, for whom he was traded by Sacramento, still sits in his seat.

Paul Peritt, veteran National league pitcher, wandering around New York unattached, after John McInraw let him go, was picked up by Ty Cobb.

Lefty Cooper, from the University of Kentucky, who pitched for the Dyersburg (Tenn.) Independent team last year, has joined the Little Rock Travelers.

George Stuebel, star pitcher of the Sioux Falls league club, credited with seven games won and three lost, has been sold to the Chicago National league club.

Extra Midiff, released from the management of the Charleston team, lost little time in signing up to manage the Charlotte team, succeeding Eddie Hooper.

Josh Devore, manager of the Grand Rapids club, can still hit the ball. The former New York Giant is hitting at a .370 clip, according to the latest averages issued.

Manager Charles Graham of San Francisco is opposed to gambling, but he is going to take a chance with pitcher Ernie Shore, having claimed him from Vernon.

Monroe Sweeney, coach of the Mountville (W. Va.) high school, and formerly with Bethany college, has been added to the staff of umpires of the Virginia league.

Manager McCreadie of Portland has dug up the ancient Harvey (Spuck) Markness and is using him to pitch to batters in practice. And also as a relief man in games.

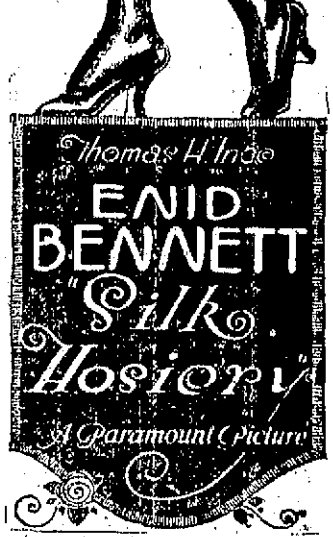

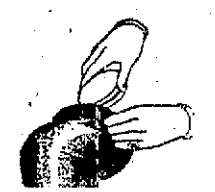

Rube Ehrhardt, shipped by the Cincinnati Reds to Peoria, is no stranger there, for he was with the Peoria team back in 1910, when Jimmy Hancock dug him up from the list.

Arthur Irwin is boosting his young second baseman, Talm Scher. The Hartford manager says Scher is the best looking youngster he has seen in years.

HIGH PRICE SET FOR SITE FOR NEW SCHOOL AT BUTE

N. Union Township Board of Education Denies, Starts Condemnation Action.

ROUTINE NEWS OF COURT

School directors of North Union township started condemnation proceedings Tuesday against Samuel Woods of near Bute to acquire a small tract of land for the purpose of erecting a school house. The court appointed J. V. E. Ellis, Fred D. Munster and W. H. Blinn as viewers to view the land and report to the court. Mr. Woods is said to have asked the school board $10,000 for the ground which is 160 by 400 feet in dimensions and a lot has already been sold for $500. The school directors considered the price as highly excessive and instituted condemnation proceedings.

A petition was presented in court Tuesday to vacate and supply a part of the old Wisting road in Wharton township. ## WHAT TO EAT TO PUT IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND MAKE YOU STRONG

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW IRON-CONTAINING VEGETABLES SUCH AS LENTILS, SPINACH, APPLES, ETC., WHEN REGULARLY TAKEN WITH ORGANIC IRON BUILD GREAT STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

At their own doors, the very gardens of those who are weak, nervous and ailing, the white is one of the most valuable tonic and strength-builders known to medical science. Dr. Jesse Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) and the Westchester County Hospital, New York, when consulted recently:

Dr. Sullivan further said: "If your daily diet contains an abundant amount of iron, you are giving your body the red blood food it craves. But if your blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery, you cannot expect to be strong and well. On the contrary, your nerves become weakened and you become irritable, fussy and easily upset. In such cases, what you need is iron—organic iron to remove the cause of your trouble, and the moment organic iron is supplied it is often wonderful how quickly your health and vigor will disappear and how strong and vigorous you will become." But be careful to distinguish between artificial and true organic iron which people usually take and true organic iron which people usually take and true organic iron which people usually take.

Depression Will Prevent Young Men Attending College

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Students depending on their savings from employment during the summer vacation to help them through college, and universities are finding it increasingly difficult to obtain remunerative positions, according to teachers in this city.

The industrial depression is proving a stumbling block to the plans of not only many local students but also those coming from other sections of the state. With many factories and stores being laid off, managers of industrial establishments are not anxious to give temporary employment to students and as a result many college men have taken the road with various articles and some, it is said, have shown considerable ability as salesmen.

The teachers predict the situation will prevent many ambitious young men from entering higher institutions of learning throughout the country this fall.

Blackbird Pie May Again Become Popular Delicacy

By Associated Press.

READING, July 27.—The blackbird pie, popular delicacy of a past generation, may return in this section as a result of agitation now under way here to obtain permission to shoot the birds within the city limits.

The birds, it is claimed, have become a nuisance in some sections of the city. In past years they used Mount Penn, Navesink Mountain and other hills as a nesting place and as stopping places on their fall and spring migrations. Disturbed there in recent years by the activities of hunters they have learned of the safety within the city limits and flock in thousands to the trees within the safety zones.

The city officials have been appealed to by residents of these sections to permit the killing of the birds.

DUCK REFUGES IN MARSH AREAS

Uncle Sam's Biologists Declare The Wild Fowl Must Have Further Protection.

ARE OUSTED BY DRAINAGE

Results of the Study, During Three Summers, of the Ducks and Canada Geese That Breed in Bear River Region of Utah.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Washington.—Although legislative measures for the protection of wild fowl have multiplied, and have added to the restrictions on hunters, these restrictions have not been sufficient to maintain these game birds in their former abundance. Regions that once were the summer homes of myriads of wild ducks have been drained and placed under cultivation, and extensive areas where the birds at one time bred are now populous farming communities.

These changes, say biologists of the United States Department of Agriculture, have crowded out the former feathered residents and have served in a corresponding degree to reduce their numbers.

Reclamation of these facts has led recently to the adoption of other measures to encourage waterfowl. A number of extensive marsh areas have been made permanent refuges under the partnership of the Department of Agriculture, and many private preserves, some formed by artificial means, have been established where the birds are protected while nesting. In addition, in a number of cases, rigid local restrictions have been placed upon hunters.

Investigating the Ducks. As a means of ascertaining the efforts to maintain and increase the number of waterfowl, the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture has undertaken investigations of the general conditions under which wild ducks live, and their coupled with counts of the birds found in areas varying in character. During three summers, field studies were made dealing with wild ducks in the Bear river marshes in Utah, a report of which has just been published by the department in Department Bulletin 606, Wild Ducks and Duck Foods of the Bear River Marshes, Utah.

During the three seasons devoted to this work 12 species of ducks and the Canada goose were found breeding in the region included in the Bear river marshes, which cover an extensive area at the northern end of Great Salt Lake. In an emigration made during May and June, 1919, of the 11 species of breeding ducks, 8,500 pairs were counted, and it is believed that this number represents between 60 and 100 per cent of the total number of breeding ducks occurring here that season.

Vast Number in One Region.

Allowing five young reared to maturity as the average for each pair, and considering 1919 as an average season, the bulletin states that, at a conservative estimate, between 25,000 and 30,000 wild ducks, native to the marsh, are to be found there at the close of the breeding season.

It was found that, in addition to the large number of birds reared on the Bear river area, many other ducks came in after the nesting season to remain there until fall. Great birds from the Bear river section range widely after leaving these marshes has been shown by records of ducks that have been banded and released there and subsequently were shot elsewhere. Records thus obtained show that birds released near the mouth of Bear river in migration cover the region from Oklahoma to Texas and west to California. The department urges the establishment of a greater number of preserves where wild fowl may breed and remain unmolested and an ample supply of food.

GIRL GUARDIAN OF FAMILY

Only Nineteen Years Old, but Will Look After Five Persons by Order of Court.

San Francisco.—Unsettlingly proving that she is capable, independent and carries a good balance wheel of judgment by caring for her young brothers and one sister, Mary Carmichael, a slim, childish nineteen-year-old girl, has been appointed by Superior Judge Graham to act as guardian for her little brothers and sister.

During the last two years, since the mother died, this self-reliant little head of the family has not only been mother to the little children by doing the cooking and other household work, but has stood in the stead of a father since his death eight years ago. Since the death of the mother an uncle has been acting as guardian for the family, but lately they have become restive and anxious to manage their own business.

Suez Canal to Be Tunnelled.

The great military base at Kantara, from which the British built a military railway through the desert to Palestine, is being dismantled. The line, of course, is permanent. During the war the Suez canal was crossed by a large swing bridge, which is now to be dismantled. Connection between the Egyptian railways and the new line to Palestine will be maintained by means of a tunnel which will be built below the Suez canal.

Japan to Honor First Emperor.

Japan is preparing to build a pyramid for the first emperor, Jimmu Tenno, somewhere in the suburbs of Tokio, and for this purpose a committee of prominent men will collect a stone from every subject of the empire and the American. It is the intention to make this the highest structure in the Far East.

The "sterling" mark of circulation

Most cities employ a City Sealer who verifies the accuracy of the scales from which you purchase your food, materials, etc. In buying cloth you have the yardstick.

Circulation likewise has its measure, the one standard by which it can be correctly gauged. That measure, of course, is the A. B. C. (Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Courier is a member of the A. B. C. and will be pleased to show their latest audit report, or mail it to you upon request.

Germany's Killed in War. BERLIN, July 26.—Germany lost 1,792,558 men killed and 4,246,871 wounded from 1914 to 1918 according to a revised compilation of the German casualties during the war. In addition 200,000 men were still reported as missing. The losses in the navy, which are included in the casualties, given above, were 34,256 men killed and 31,085 wounded.

Little Rest For Parliament. LONDON, July 26.—Austin Chamberlain, the government leader, said in his house of commons today he hoped parliament would be prorogued August 28 but he foreboded the possibility of its being summoned again in November or December to pass legislation necessary to give effect to an Irish settlement.

Fire Loss $30,000. HARRISBURG, July 26.—Nine houses and a large merchandise store were destroyed by flames in Williamsport, Monday. The destroyed area covered about a third of the town. An exploding oil stove in one of the houses was responsible for the flames. The loss will total $30,000.

Fashion's Fancies

GINGHAM IS THE STYLISH FABRIC

Besides Being Fashionable Material, Price Is Much Lower Than in the Past.

RED AND WHITE CHECKS

Brighter Colors to Supplement the Dull Shades in Gingham Is Increasing Note in the Paris Modes.

"The best thing I can tell you about gingham," said the head of a highly successful firm in America, "is that they are the best thing in the world. No other cotton dress fabric approaches them in volume of sales this year."

Every summer wardrobe that makes any pretension whatever of approaching completeness should include several gingham frocks. This is good news because gingham has much to recommend it. No woman is averse to buying inexpensive clothes that are in the height of fashion, and this is one of the things that still may be said of the gingham frock. The price of gingham is now considerably lower than it has been for two or three years.

The prettiest dresses of this fabric are simple, the beauty of such a dress lying in the selection of colors and perhaps an unusual bit of trimming.

Checks Brighten Landscapes. In might be expected with the present craze for dull, black silk dresses, that black and white cottons would be chosen. But fashion, ever-contradictory, says no. In wash fabrics we must be gay. Black and white cottons had their innings last year. Now their place is taken by red and white checks. There is a goodly showing of brown and white as well as many greens, but reds are most prominent.

According to an old-line saying, an individual is as old as he or she feels, and as women could help feeling very young in these crisp, wash dresses that in design, material and coloring are very like those she wore in her schoolgirl days. Except for the size it would be next to impossible to distinguish them from little girls' dresses.

The full skirt which stalks so threateningly among the new clothes finds a logical place in the cotton dress. The slim silhouette is retained by dress-makers catering to the women who really know most about dress, and who always demand beauty in their clothes. The full skirt is among us. It is not nearly so beautiful in model of cloth as those which follow the natural lines of the figure, but it is much more suitable to the dress of wash material than the peasant chemise.

Youngful Model, Organdie Trimmings. A charming dress for warm summer mornings may be made of red and white their place, for we have them used more profusely than ever this year. This is especially true of organdie. Quantities of organdie frocks, both gathered and plaited, are seen. "Gathered Mexican Note."

If you are a youthful amateur dressmaker you need prefer the Mexican note sponsored so strongly by Jeanne Lanvin of Paris in her spring and summer collection of clothes. A frock shows the straight bodice just described, with a Mexican collar fastened to one side. By way of variety, this skirt is plaited and cut longer in the front and back than it is at the sides, but any plain skirt may be used with a bodice such as this.

Embroideries are not lacking on wash dresses, but they are reserved more especially for models of linen or organdie. A straight-line frock of natural color, crisp, is most attractive with heavy embroideries in brown.

The skirt portion was embroidered with heavy threads of unmerciful brown cotton from the hem to about the knees; it was a chemise dress. The bottom of the sleeves were ornamented in like manner, and so was a narrow collar which stood straight up around the neck, but turned down in the front, as the dress was slashed and folded back to form revers.

Dress That Harks Back to 1880.

A new way of using worsted embroidery on a linen frock, and also of obtaining a good deal of color, appears in a demure grey chemise dress. It has an apron tunic in the front, only attached to the waist-portion at a low line. The trimming consists of applied motifs of bright colored linen in novel shapes attached to the dress with worsted of contrasting hue.

As a variation of the embroidered trimming, straight chemise frocks of heavy white linen—the chemise model is used for the heavier fabrics—are trimmed straight down front and back panels, with points of red and white checked gingham. The gingham also is attached in pointed effect around the neckline, which is somewhat high but in a shallow oval in form, and around the sleeves.

The short cap sleeve, which is just a little puff, is used in summer dresses of the lighter materials, such as voiles and crepes. It also makes an occasional appearance in some of the heavier fabrics, but, although the dress itself is of a heavier cotton, the 1890 sleeve is of a thinner material. For instance, a quaint looking dress of flowered chintz, made with a straight bodice and full-gathered skirt, has puff sleeves of white organdie, the cuffs of which are stitched with red worsted. Further touches of the organdie appear in the form of piped ruffles encircling skirt and deep round neck.

Modes of Hairdressing.

The modes of hairdressing in Paris indicate a vogue for smooth and uncurled arrangements of the hair, as in opposition to the much-waved and puffed coiffure which has been worn for several years. The exaggerated psyché knot low down on the head is much affected by Englishwomen as well as Frenchwomen. Although the hair is arranged not only with plainness, but apparently with precision, most fantastic headresses are worn. The large Spanish comb is retained. The newest combs are of ivory rather than shell. These white combs are most effective. For those who do not like an all-white comb, they may be had with beautiful enameling in color as well as with settings of precious stones.

The weirdest of feather ornaments are chosen for the hair. Bands of the costly and forbidden panache may completely encircle the head or plume of the common barnyard fowl may make the craziest looking headpiece imaginable.

Transparent Hats.

Transparent hats of crepe georgette, tulle, organdie, hairband, lace and the like are irresistibly youthful and often chosen to wear with a dainty, summery frock, as a contrast to the becoming softness. Very smart, the crepe organdie leghorn trimmed with sprays of wheat in the same shade.

Self-trimmed.

The self-trimmed dress is having its day. "Incrustations," appliques, flutings are all very good. The latter are simply pressed into shape and allowed to fall

FORTUNE AWAITS MISSING MAIDEN

Her Spanish Grandfather and American Uncles Searching for Helen Owen.

WAS TOO FOND OF NIGHT LIFE

Daughter of Roosevelt Rough Rider and "The Rose of Cuba" Escaped From Restraint in Chicago and Cannot Now Be Found.

Chicago.—Somewhere in these United States is a seventeen-year-old miss, a Spanish-American child of romance and adventure, for whom a large fortune is waiting.

Back in Spain an aristocratic old Quixote grandfather is tearing away his last years longing for her and here in America three wealthy uncles are seeking her to tell her that a fourth uncle has died and left her a great estate.

Helen Owen, the missing heiress, is the daughter of the late Warren D. Owen, a Roosevelt Rough Rider, who won the daughter of Don Esteban Garcia in Cuba in the Spanish-American war. Rough Rider Owen fought a duel for the hand of Senorita Garcia with her proud old father. It is stated by Clyde Owen of Pittsburgh, who is here seeking the girl, and brought her to the United States.

Uncle Leaves Her a Fortune. Since then both have died and the girl has disappeared, after seventeen years of as romantic a life as her parents lived before her. The father died in April, 1920, at New Bedford, Mass., and since then the girl's uncle, Edward Owen, has died at Boston, leaving his estate to the young woman.

Assisting the Pittsburgh relative in the hunt are Perry Owen of New York and William Owen of Oak Park, Ill., all wealthy.

After my brother Warren brought his bride, who was known as "The Rose of Cuba," back to the States they lived in St. Louis," said Clyde Owen, "Helen was born there. Her mother died a year later of tuberculosis, and Warren and the child wandered over most of the world for many years. Her grandfather in Spain sent agents to this country looking for her.

"Then, when she was fifteen, they settled down in Oak Park, where Warren was a painting contractor. She kept his house and had her freedom, and, inheriting the temperament of her parents, was too fond of that freedom to keep out of mischief. She was fond of cabarets, dances and the movies. So I learned she came before the juvenile authorities here.

In Home for Friendless. "The girl's father moved east and died, and she returned to Chicago to be sent to the Home for the Friendless because of her wild occupation. She was given to the care of Mrs. Conley, 4510 Drive avenue. She escaped through a window one night and has never been heard of since.

"My brother, Edward Owen of Boston, has died, leaving his estate to her. Wherever she is we want her to know that we will protect her from the agents of her grandfather in Spain and that a great house, surrounded by six acres of beautiful estate, and many thousands of dollars are awaiting her."

Clyde Owen said this story, is an official of the Pressed Steel Car company, Pittsburgh.

The touch-souled girl has changed her name from Owen to Gordon, according to the information available.

FINDS A LABELED TURTLE

Kentucky Farmer Picks Up One Upon Which His Neighbor Carved, Initials Years Ago.

Lenoxburg, Ky.—Forty-four years ago J. T. McClanahan, who at that time owned a farm near here, carved his name on the shell of a small land turtle that he had caught. He then liberated the turtle.

A few days ago Peter Sheppard, who now owns the adjoining farm, caught a turtle, and upon examining it closely learned that it was the same turtle on which McClanahan had carved his initials forty-four years ago.

Recently he found another turtle on which Sheppard's father carved his name. John Sheppard, twenty-eight years ago.

The shells of the turtles had been worn almost smooth, but it still was easy to discern the carving of the names.

Duchess Wins Rain "Bet" of Half Million Francs

Paris.—As a consequence of rain Lloyd's of London lost their latest "weather gamble." They will be called upon to pay the Duchess Decazes, organizer of the great charity Pavlovna fête tonight, at the Polo club, half a million francs.

The terms of the insurance stated that all expenses would be paid by Lloyd's if the observers stationed on the top of Eiffel tower noted more than two millimeters of rain after eleven o'clock in the morning.

At six o'clock, at night, the rainfall was officially reported at three and a half millimeters.
